PROMOTING THE UVA RESEARCH ENTERPRISE

UNIVERSITY COMMUNICATIONS

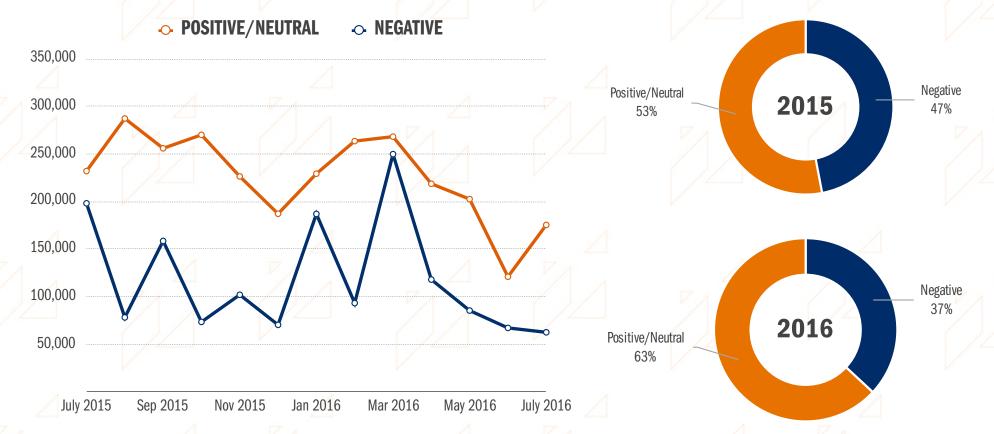

METRICS & ANALYSIS

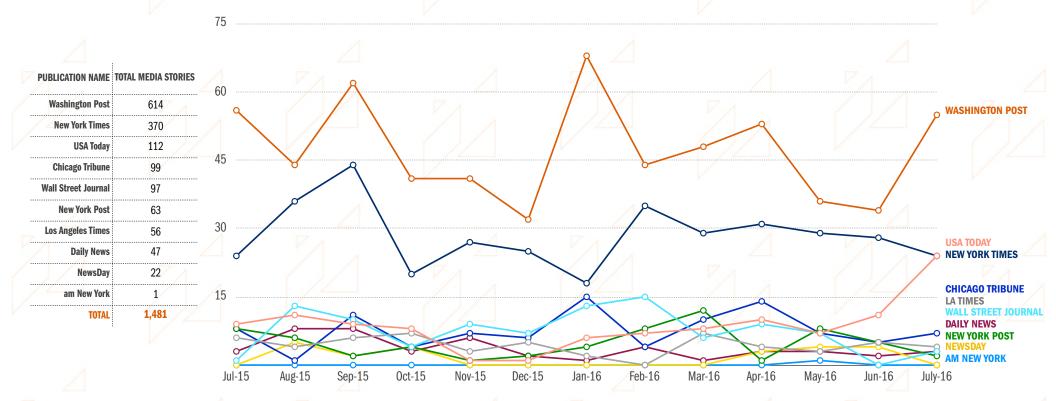

MEDIA SENTIMENT

University VIRGINIA

Source: Cision media monitoring service.

MEDIA STORIES IN TOP NATIONAL PUBLICATIONS

Source: Cision media monitoring service.

EARNED MEDIA FOR UVA RESEARCH

The Paily Progress

Pilot study with UVa to explore more ways to tackle lupus

The Washington Post

This may be the best way to measure gun violence in America

Richmond Times-Dispatch

U.Va. professor's shelter design may eventually help refugees

TIME

The Magic Kingdom Meets the Middle Kingdom in Shanghai Disneyland

Coincidences and the Meaning of Life

Genetically engineered 'Magneto' protein remotely controls brain and behaviour

上海日排

ShanghaiDaily.com

How to play risk and opportunity in volatile markets

The Boston Globe

Researchers pinpoint site of Salem witch hangings

How Psychology Helped Support — and Subvert — the British Empire

What will make vaccines work better in developing countries?

UVA Study Links Disparities In Pain Management To Racial Bias

The New Hork Times

Kindergartens Ringing the Bell for Play Inside the Classroom

Los Angeles Times

Cutting Edge Researchers' idea will blow you away: 656-foot long blades on wind turbines

experiments, but not most of their results

THE IRISH TIMES

Ted Kennedy one of the 'great architects' of peace in the North – Mitchell

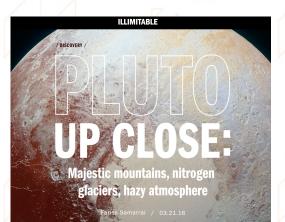

OWNED MEDIA: UVA RESEARCH

University of Virginia Published by Kaylyn Christopher [?] - July 19 at 3:09pm - @

3-D-printed skull models are providing an important training bridge between books and bedside for medical students and residents in the UVA Health System's Department of Otolaryngology.

3-D Printed Skulls Prepare New Doctors while Promoting World-Class Health Care

The UVA Health System's Department of Otolaryngology is using 3-D printed skulls to train interns on medical procedures – a practice that is not only benefitting...

NEWS.VIRGINIA.EDU

2+ Follow

#UVA's John Pepper on the difficulties of researching gun violence: ow.ly/hRYc301J9Zs

3:05 PM - 28 Jun 2016

PROMOTING UVA RESEARCH ON OWNED CHANNELS

